

TED QUENNEVILLE MEMORIAL AWARD

$1,000.00

Criteria

This scholarship recognizes and supports high school students who exemplify the spirit of giving back and possess a positive outlook on life, encouraging them to continue their community-focused efforts in the future. Activities should demonstrate a commitment to helping others and making a positive impact in the community (e.g., volunteering at local shelters, participating in community clean-up events, tutoring peers, etc.).

Selection Process

Students will apply online, and the top 3 applications from both schools will be sent to the donor for final review and adjudication.

Deadline

See school guidance/student services office

History

The Ted Quenneville Memorial Award is a tribute to a man whose life exemplified service, kindness, and a passion for helping others. Ted was always known for his warm smile, friendly nature, jovial laugh and willingness to lend a hand. Whether it was volunteering at church, coaching sports teams, building houses with Habitat for Humanity, or supporting his neighbors, Ted's commitment to those around him was unwavering. He found joy in being present at his children's and grandchildren's sporting events, where his loud cheers could always be heard, encouraging not only his own family but every child on the field or rink. Ted believed in the importance of community and always worked to instill these values in his children. He understood that success in life goes beyond academic achievement, and that the ability to balance responsibilities in both school and community is something to be celebrated. This award is given to a student who embodies these same qualities—someone who demonstrates a positive attitude, works hard, and approaches life with a smile, while never giving up. This student represents the spirit of service, dedication, and encouragement that Ted lived by.

Available To

Strathroy District Collegiate Institute;
Glencoe District High School